FOREWORD

I am very glad to write a foreword for unique publication in the world of rehabilitation "Unveiling The Enigmatic Biosphere of Autism" edited by Mr. Hirdyesh Kumar Singh, The main Corresponding author cum editor of this book is associated with the NIEPID RC Noida/New Delhi, I had served the same institute for the last 28 years as a Lecturer cum Officer in charge, NIEPID RC New Delhi, under Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment,Government of India. Now as a Director, The National Trust for Handicapped, New Delhi, (NTH) approved by RCI-Rehabilitation Council of India, NTH is a charitable trust registered in the year 1977 under the provisions of The Charitable & Religious Trusts Act, 1920. Our three departments under the NTH umbrella are the Ananth school, Svayam OPD and Teacher Training Department running under the aegis of Ananth Centre for Learning & Development New Delhi.

I would like to congratulate Mr Hirdyesh K Singh for this excellent work, He has taken a welcome initiative for the differently abled /autistic divyangjan & parents of such children with ASD & rehabilitation professional both amateur and experienced one all will get benefits from this first reference book, publication of its kind, it's a handy reference book for all those seeking information on identification, assessment & possible therapeutics for the ASD. I am sure the hand book would be welcomed by parents as well as by all those working in the field of disability and rehabilitation and would, moreover, create greater awareness in the community about the existing facilities / concessions designed to increase the flow of benefits to children with disabilities.

Once again I must praise all the team of authors, especially editor, Mr Hirdyesh K. Singh for giving form, shape and content to the concept in a manner which reflects a sensitive appreciation of human sentiments and societal needs.
